DR. ALEXANDER FAVORS MARION WITH A VISIT

Delivered Two Powerful Sermons
Last Sunday at the New
M. E. Church.

With two remarkable sermons, which for depth and spiritual insight could hardly be surpassed, the "Feast of Dedication" of the new Methodist church was brought to a close on Sunday last. The preacher for the day was Rev. Gross Alexander, D. D., Editor of the "Methodist Review" of Nashville, Tenn., and a scholar of international repute.

Large congregations waited on the Doctor's ministry, rapt attention to the two discourses, which are perhaps best described by the word, "Masterly." Speaking from the text, "Buying up the opportunities," the preacher made touching reference to the thousand and one chances which every day present themselves to the average man and woman to perpetuate the best elements in human nature for the common good of all. The illustrations which he employed, together with the manifest union with which the sermon was delivered contributed to the memorable occasion which will be remembered with pleasure for a long time to come.

At the night service Dr. Alexander's description of the "longings of human nature and its manifest capabilities" was perhaps unique, and revealed the master mind which was behind the argument.

Next week we hope to give a succinct account of this wonderful Church enterprise, which our Methodist friends have so successfully carried through and we are sure that our readers will be glad to read it.

Dr. Mather announced that the protracted meeting will commence on Wednesday, May 29th and that he will be assisted by a large choir and orchestra under the general direction of Prof. W. B. Yates, who will also have the help of Profs. Robert and C. D. Lear, and W. L. Shell.

Aged Preacher Weds

Young Blind Girl.

Whitesburg, Ky. May 20.—One of the most interesting and romantic weddings to occur in Letcher county in years, took place at Little Cowan creek two miles from here, when the Rev. D. Howell, aged 70, a Baptist minister, of Dickerson county, Va., was married to Miss Zilphia Adams, aged 21, the blind daughter of Spencer Adams, a farmer. The bride, blind since infancy, was educated at the Louisville school for the blind, and is one of the most popular girls of the county.

Many friends of the bride witnessed the ceremony. They will reside in Dickerson county.

Lightning And Churches.

Some unbelievers, who have lost their religious faith, appear sometimes to marvel at the fact that nine-tenths of the buildings struck by lightning are churches. According to Prof. Ogg, teacher of physics at the Manual Training High School, this phenomenon is due to the comparatively greater height of the church structures than the surrounding buildings.

"During an electrical storm every cloud has to a certain extent a charge of electricity in it," stated Mr. Ogg. "And when this cloud falls so low that the attraction of the charge on high structures pulls the electricity from the cloud, there issues a powerful stroke of lightning the destructive effects of which are well known. Any other explanation of the phenomenon, in my opinion, is made only by individuals who do not understand the elements and behavior of electrical disturbances."—Kansas City Journal.

STATE WINS DEBATING CONTEST.

Defeats Transylvania and Becomes Winner of Ky Championship.
Our Men Supported Well.

The championship of the Kentucky Inter-collegiate Debating Association was won by debating team of the State University of Kentucky when the Transylvania University team was defeated by a vote of four to one in the debate Transylvania, Friday night, on the subject "Resolved that there should be a permanent tariff board with power to collect and publish information on the tariff and to originate all bills for tariff laws, constitutionally granted."

The team which was composed of J. I. Miller of Lexington; Fred T. Shultz, of Narrows, Ky., and N. Gray Rochester of Marion, Ky., was far superior to the opposing team in all points of debating, and notwithstanding the fact that it had the affirmative side of the subject, and, therefore, had to bear the burden of the proof, it had a long lead on the Transylvania debaters at all stages of the debate. The members of the Transylvania team were John Christopher, of Hatton, Wis. Richard Heilbron, of San Diego, Cal., and W. F. O'Connell of Fairland, Texas.

In the first speech Mr. Miller showed in a general way the great and most apparent evils connected with the present system of legislation and pointed out the ways in which the system under discussion would remedy these evils. He showed that the Ways and Means Committee, which now makes the tariff investigation and frames the tariff bill, could not, with its limited facilities, frame tariff bills that were to the best interest of the people even if it were not dominated by party politics, as he also showed that it is. He also showed the manner in which the proposed board would be able by putting all of its time on tariff questions, and by publishing the information that it collected to educate the people, concerning tariff questions, and by originating the bills to give the correct tariff measures before the legislature.

The first speaker on the negative read a long speech, in which he took a great deal of time explaining that the negative did not have anything to prove, but only had to show wherein the theory of the affirmative was lacking. He failed to do that.

Mr. Shultz, the second speaker on the affirmative took up in detail the working of the proposed board, and the details of how tariff bills are now handled in the legislature. He dwelt upon the present evils of log-rolling, party domination, financial influences, and corporation control. He also contrasted the American tariff legislation with that of Germany, where a permanent board is in charge of legislation.

The third speech of the affirmative, by Mr. Rochester, took up in detail the workings of the proposed board and showed in what manner it would eliminate the evil legislation that was mentioned by his colleagues. The summarizing portion of Mr. Rochester's made the whole argument of the affirmative into one complete and systematic argument.

The third speech of the negative dealt only with generalities and points which it was claimed

JAMES LOBBS KILLED NEAR MEXICO

Run Over by Cars on I. C. R. R.
Saturday Night and Died on Sunday.

Saturday night at 10 o'clock a young man whose name was James Lobbs was run over by an I. C. train about a quarter of a mile this side of Mexico, where he had fallen asleep on the track. He was horribly mutilated and lay all night where he was thrown by the passing train, unable to make his cries heard. Sunday morning when discovered he was so weak from loss of blood that little hope was entertained for him. However he was taken to the hospital at Paducah, Sunday at noon and given attention but died Sunday afternoon. He was conscious to the last and talked with his friends about the accident.

His remains were laid to rest at the Hillgraveyard, Monday.

Mrs. A. U. Lamb, of Clay, Ky., was in the city last week enroute to her home at Clay, Ky., after a visit to her old home in Livingston county.

PADUCAH BANKER'S TESTIMONY

FOR the benefit of any of my friends and acquaintances who may be afflicted with Kidney or Liver trouble, I state that I have found in Hays' Specific an efficient remedy and, I believe, a permanent cure for myself. For some time I was a sufferer from a disorder of these organs and finally resorted to Hays' Specific. It is with no degree of pride that I permit my name to be used to promote the interest of the manufacture of this remedy, but that it may be of some benefit to my friends.

Money Not Forth Coming.

Madisonville, Ky., May 21.—Unless a check is received for the full amount due the farmers on the 50,000 acres of coal rights due from the French Syndicate within 30 days, the deal may be called off. A French Syndicate, represented by William Lynch, of Dawson Springs, negotiated a deal for the Beulah fields over a year ago, at ten dollars an acre. Payments have been irregular, it is said, hence the movement to press the matter to a finish.

Persimmon Trees.

Every family orchard should have one or two persimmon trees in it, for it is a delicious fruit. There are many varieties, all of which are good but for a small family orchard a good selection of two varieties would be Hyskume and Goshio. The former is an early variety with little or no astringency and can be eaten while still firm. The flesh is brown and crisp. Goshio is a later variety that is not good to eat until it softens up in the good old persimmon way.—J. W. Mills.

The Catalpa.

Catalpa are quick growing trees, and the heart wood forms early, making them valuable for early marketing or home use. The wood is light in weight, strong, durable and straight grained. After once planted the forest is permanent, sprouts always coming up from the stump after cutting, and later growths are more rapid than earlier ones, due, no doubt to the deep rooting of the older stumps. Later care consists in trimming out and burning excess of unprofitable sprouts, which in time may be of considerable value in some line of manufacturing, or perhaps fertilizing.

At first he considered the injury too slight for attention, but later the foot began to swell, and upon examination by a doctor it was discovered that one of the toes was broken.—Mayfield Messenger.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They cure one hundred dollars for any case it cures. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Parasites Killing Elms.

All the fine old elm trees in the C. & O. depot lot and on the Pearce property adjoining it, under whose wide-spreading branches many of us played when boys, have succumbed to the pest that has wrought the destruction of so many of their kind the past two or three years, not only in this but other sections of the country. The huge, dead trees stand barren, unsightly and conspicuous objects among their leafy surroundings and should be put to the ax. Experts say that the elm is doomed in this country unless something is found to stop the ravages of a parasite that seems to absorb the life of these wooded giants before its presence under bark is detected.—Maysville Bulletin.

Plant Beds Scraped by Night Riders in Lyon County.

A special from Eddyville in the Paducah News-Democrat says that night riders broke out anew in Lyon county a few nights ago when fifteen tobacco beds belonging to some of the county's most prominent growers were scraped. This is the first disturbance since the many events of 1908-9. Since recent malicious acts were committed, many farmers of that county have decided to quit raising tobacco. Judge Thos. P. Gray, of Eddyville, has offered a reward of $250.00 for the arrest of the guilty parties, and has requested Gov. McCreary to take like action.

PASTOR RUSSEL

REPLIES WITH FACTS.

Mr. Editor:—In my sermon of May 5th, I charged that the Christian ministry is hiding the Key of Divine knowledge from the people, as did the Doctors of Divinity of Jesus' day. This has aroused much comment. I am asked in substance; Why, Pastor Russell, did you not specify the particular subjects on which the Pulpit is seeking to keep the Pew in ignorance—hiding the key of knowledge? If what you say is true the laity must awake to this unsuspected danger! But prove to us that this is true.

Sad I am that it is true that the ministers of all denominations (with some noble exceptions) are the chief foes to real Bible study. Christians of all denominations love and reverence the Bible as the Word of God. Under the light now shining from one page of it to another, they would soon discard the creeds of the darker ages and become one united Church—with "one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism," were it not for the ministers. The preachers having lost faith in the inspiration of the Bible have become "higher critics." They do not wish to show their unbelief, hence avoid Bible discussion. They await the ripening of unbelief when they can publicly say, We educated ministers have not believed the Bible inspired for many long years. We kept quiet until you would not be shocked by the statement. But to the proofs:

(1) The preachers know that the only Hebrew word translated hell in our Bible has no reference whatever to a great torture-chamber such as their people believe contains nearly all humanity. Privately they will admit that "sheol" means the tomb, and that its equivalent in the New Testament Greek is "hades." They will admit too that "Gehenna" is the name of a valley outside Jerusalem where rubbish was consumed and explained Biblically to symbolize the second death—Rev. 20:14.

(2) I charge Rev. Haldeman D. D. with attempting to throw dust into the mental eyes of the Baptists by horribly misrepresenting my teachings, to hinder his people from studying Bible teachings to which I call attention, by cracking over their heads the whip of fear. When he declared my teachings to be "the blasphemous religion which teaches the annihilation of Jesus Christ" he intended his untruthful words should scare timid "sheep" and hinder Bible study. He not only helped to hide the "key of knowledge" but in this unscrupulous way he tries to keep the Lord's people from finding it. I am positive he would not think for a moment of defending his own Church creed in public. The misrepresentation of my teachings is to rally the spirit of the "dark ages," the spirit of hatred and sectarianism. His followers will not so closely examine their own creed if they are busy fighting a supposed enemy, and Dr. Haldeman misrepresents me to be that enemy. Alas! what a heavy penalty we may fear from the hands of the Lord upon those who, posing as light-bearers, are serving the cause of darkness—hating the light and misrepresenting it.

I might multiply facts, but these may suffice for the present. If Christian people once realized the extent to which they are being hoodwinked by the clergy they would soon find abundance of proof. If they ask for Bible instruction along simple lines (bread) they are given a stone of evasion. If they ask for stronger meat (fish) they will get a serpent—a stinging rebuke for meddling in matters theological, as though they doubted that the preacher knew everything, and as though they supposed that the laity were capable of understanding anything! Abraham Lincoln well said, "You can fool all the people some of time and some of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

CARRSVILLE.

A Rapidly Growing Business Town on the Ohio. Its Future Brilliant.

They tell a story down here of a drunken passenger on one of the Ohio river packets who became so great a nuisance that the captain was appealed to by the purser, for authority to put man irons. The master of the steamboat asked the drunkard's destination and was told that the only answer they could get from the party was, "Put me off at H—." "All right," replied the captain, "land him at Carrsville."

Since those days, twenty years ago, Carrsville has radically changed. Today with its high grade public school, its attractive churches, the pronounced public spirit of its citizens toward all promising enterprises, a financial institution, the Citizens Bank one of the best managed, most prosperous affairs in Western Kentucky, enterprising merchants, the largest produce shipping house South of Evansville and the Carrsville Enterprise, a real newsy paper published weekly, the town is rapidly becoming the Mecca of the people not only from its immediate surroundings but from many of the northern States who are enthusiastic about its crop-growing facilities and its cheap lands. Carrsville should have much more space than can be given this week, and later a very full, detailed account of this rapidly growing town will be published. The vein of almost solid zinc blende, having a market value of $60 per ton, right at the mining point is a very wonderful discovery made a few weeks ago. It is unique, in every way, a rare occurrence in nature, a fissure vein of practically pure zinc ore in solid form. The zinc is absolutely free from fluor spar and can be shipped as mined. It will probably cause a great deal of interest in mining circles.

The river is falling rapidly. Splendid fishing and a most comfortable hotel to reside at with cooking that puts one in mind of the "very best dishes mother used to serve us."

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS

Value of Early Diagnosis.

By Dr. CHARLES L. MINOR.

In any given case of tuberculosis a sensible doctor can usually tell you whether there is any chance of getting well, but it is worth remembering that quite a number of very bad and apparently hopeless cases do at times recover when it seemed impossible for them to do so. Thus, however bad the outlook, it is sensible not to give up hope, but to start right in to make the bravest fight you can.

In any case your chance of getting well depends largely on the earliness of the discovery of the trouble and the grit and the courage of the patient, and a brave and determined patient with bad trouble often stands a better chance of recovery than a silly, weak willed one with much less trouble.

HARRIET BEECHER STOWE—Author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Harriet Beecher Stowe, born in Litchfield, Conn., June 14, 1811; died at Hartford, Conn., July 1, 1896. Sister of Henry Ward Beecher, married Calvin E. Stowe, a noted educator. Educated at Hartford and taught school there and at Cincinnati. She wrote many books, of which "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was by far the most famous. This first appeared in serial form in a Washington newspaper and attracted little attention. When published as a book, however, it almost immediately had a great vogue. A half million copies were sold in the United States in five years. No single modern novel has been so widely read or had so much influence. Many of her other novels concern New England life. She also wrote "Lady Byron Vindicated."

Right to the Point.
When the lord chief justice visited Ireland he was often entertained by a hospitable gentleman who had an old butler, who took the privilege of speaking his mind freely. On one occasion the charet did not quite meet the host's approval, so he called the ancient butler and said:
"I told you you were to put the best claret on the table. Is this the best?"
"No, sorr. It is not the best claret," replied the old fellow, "but it's the best ye've got."—London Tit-Bits.

Knew He Was Worshipped.
"In Paris Mr. Whistler and an English painter got into a very turbulent argument about Velasquez at a studio tea," said an artist. "Mr. Whistler at one point in the argument praised himself extravagantly. The Englishman, listening, sneered and said at the end: 'It's a good thing we can't see our selves as others see us.'"
"Isn't it, though?" said Mr. Whistler. "I know in my case I should grow intolerably conceited."

Miles' Grave.
"Which is the deepest, the longest, the broadest and the smallest grave in the churchyard?" said a pedestrian to his companion while meditating among the tombs in the burying ground at Esher.
"Why," replied his companion, "it is that in which poor Miles Button lies buried, for it contains Miles below the sod, Miles in length and Miles in breadth, and yet, after all, it is but a Button-hole."—Pearson's Weekly.

Effect of Tight Lacing.
"Is tight lacing unwise?" a teacher asked a young lady in a physiology lesson.
"Yes, it is very unwise," was the reply.
"Why is it unwise?" the teacher pursued.
"Because it busts the corset," said the young lady.—Exchange.

"Major" Dare, an aged inmate of the county house, died Sunday and his remains were laid to rest in the New Marion cemetery. Altho it was blown down, he and Sherlie Elder will soon have the tangled debris rearranged and re-erected on the same spot and we hope the next cyclone will jump over it as Albert needs it to house his tobacco crop of which he has 6 acres set out. Cultivate Art of Cookery. To cook is an art of arts, within however, the reach of any who will take the trouble to master its alphabet and graduate into its higher branches. That one may become an artist by this study is not promised. Artists are the born, not made product. But a knowledge of cookery in the finer branches will be an aid to culture just as a knowledge of the languages helps to the comprehension of literature, and a knowledge of music to the comprehension of music.

MEMORIAL DAY.

It is but a step now to the day when we all have to strew flowers on the graves of all that is mortal of the dear ones that we so much love.

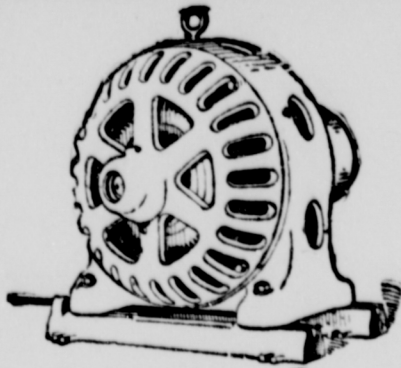

Alas, in a little while the flowers will wither. Is it not right therefore that we should erect a suitable memorial of Granite or Marble that time cannot efface.

We are at your service with anything in our line. Backed with many years experience, with never a dissatisfied patron. We guarantee faithful, honest treatment and a deep interest in each memorial we make.

IN MEMORIAM.

(Carrsville Enterprise.)

We are again reminded that in the hustle and the midst of life we are also in the throes of death.

Last Saturday morning when the sad news that the death angel had visited the home of our fellow townsman, Rev. Brother J. B. Lowey, and taken therefrom the devoted and affectionate companion and mother, it seemed the whole town was in a shroud of sadness. But we recognize that such is life and such is death.

Sister Lowey was Frances Rebecca Lamson, was born in Hopkins County, Kentucky, September 29, 1839, where she was reared. Professed a hope in Christ when about 16 years old and united herself with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in which she lived an earnest and devout Christian until she was called to her reward.

She was married to J. B. Lowey, Nov. 30, 1858, which union was only terminated after a peaceful and happy existence of 53 years, 5 months and 3 days when she fell asleep in Jesus, there to await His great summons.

To this union twelve children were born. Seven died in infancy, five are still living—Mrs. Mollie Mirse, Carrsville, Mrs. Fannie Agnew, of Paducah, Minnie McMurry, of Carrsville, Mrs. Maud Foster of New Smyrna, Florida, and Miss Cora Lowey, of Carrsville.

By the death of Sister Lowey the husband has lost a true and faithful companion, the children a dear and dutiful mother, the church an earnest and faithful member and the community a good and exemplary citizen.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. T. B. Hall at the C. P. Church, after which the remains were borne to the Town Cemetery, followed by a very large concourse of sorrowing friends, and there neatly, quietly and peaceably laid to rest to await the resurrection.

Thief Cuts Girl's Hair

From Her Head.

Elyria, O. May 20.—Shorn of her long braid of hair, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, 16, is consoled by the knowledge that she frightened away the thief, who, but for her would have appropriated $500 worth of her father's valuables.

The girl heard a noise in the house early this morning and investigated. She was seized by a burglar, who cut off her braid, threw her into a clothes basket in a closet, smashed a window and escaped, leaving his bag of plunder.

The cries of the girl awakened Mrs. Hamilton, who found her daughter little worse for the encounter, save that her pretty hair was gone.

In Memory.

Died at her home near Marion, Kentucky, on April 13, 1912, Mamie Waddell in her 28th year. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Elkins of Chapel Hill section.

The subject of this sketch was a woman of noble character. In childhood she displayed those traits of character which won for her the love and admiration of her playmates, and as she grew into the hearts of her associates and her pleasant disposition always made her a favorite in the social circle. To know her was to love her. Early in life Mamie made a profession of religion and joined the church at Chapel Hill where she remained a constant member until death.

On May 1st, 1901 she was married to C. M. Waddell of Crittenden county, and to this happy union was born three bright and beautiful little children, all of whom survive the mother, the oldest being about 6 years of age and the youngest only six months old.

Mamie had been in delicate health for several years, but not until the 1st of January 1912 did her friends and loved ones realize that that dreadful disease, tuberculosis had her in its grip, and that she was beyond human aid. She bore her sufferings with the greatest fortitude, not a murmur escaped her lips. She did not take her bed until a short time before her death. The end came very peacefully—she spoke of her death as she would have spoken of a visit to some friend. Her only regret seemed to be the parting from loved ones. After bidding them goodbye and requesting them to meet her in Heaven, she fell asleep in Jesus.

In her death the husband loses a kind and affectionate wife, one who made home happy and cheerful and bright, and the children a fond and loving mother.

To the dear husband, children, and relatives, I would say, "Weep not as those who have no hope," for we know that our loss is Heaven's gain. It was so hard to give dear Mamie up, but God knows best and we must submit to His will.

Let each of us so live that when the summons comes He may say to us as of her, "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

The funeral services were conducted at Chapel Hill by Rev. M. E. Miller, in the presence of a large concourse of friends who had gathered to pay the last tribute of respect to the beloved and sainted dead.

The remains were laid to rest in the beautiful Chapel Hill cemetery to await the resurrection.

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer, Famous London Chef.

TWO DINNER MENUS.

By Martha McCulloch Williams.

Here is a dinner menu, easy but nourishing, not so costly, and capable of being prepared, cooked, and served inside two hours:

Roast Beef, Stuffed Rolled Round
Sliced Potatoes Baked Apples
Cold Slaw
Banana Puffs

Black Coffee
Have the round cut rather long and as thick as need be. Butter it on both sides, salt and pepper lightly, cover the upper side with bread crumb stuffing seasoned with onion, roll up, tie and seal in well-greased bag with a lump of butter or clarified dripping and a spoonful of water. Put in a hot oven for three minutes, slack heat, and cook until done, allowing fifteen to twenty minutes to the pound. If tomatoes are at hand, put one or two, peeled and sliced, in with the meat. The gravy will be better and the meat itself more piquant.

Slice peeled potatoes thin, drop in cold water, drain out, put in a greased bag after sprinkling very lightly with salt, add a little extra grease, seal and cook fifteen to thirty minutes in a fairly hot oven, the time depending on the quantity in the bag.

Wash the apples well, but do not peel, cut out specks and bruises, core, fill the bottom of the core-space with a lump of butter, over which pile sugar, and add a bit of cinnamon. A clove stuck in the side may take the place of the cinnamon. Seal inside a well-greased bag, and bake eighteen to twenty minutes in a fairly hot oven.

Make cold slaw in the usual way, and the salted peanuts as follows, after blanching and drying them: Put in a thickly-buttered bag, set in a very hot oven for half minute, then reduce the heat three-quarters, and leave nuts to brown for ten minutes longer. They will come out crisp and beautiful, needing only a sprinkling of salt.

To make the banana puffs, roll out good puff paste a quarter-inch thick and cut it in squares six inches across. Cover half of each square diagonally with bananas sliced thin and soaked for half an hour in sugar and lemon bag and bake twelve minutes in a hot oven. Bananas, always cheap, and among the most nourishing of the fruits, ought to be more used in cookery.

Here is another good meal for a winter day:

Pork Tenderloin, Roasted with Sweet Potatoes
Cabbage Pudding Stewed Carrots
Celery

Apple Dumplings, Older Sauce
Coffee Cheese Crackers

Have the tenderloins split lengthwise and cut them in halves. Wipe with a clean, damp cloth, rub over with butter or dripping, season lightly with salt and pepper, and lay in a well-greased bag along with raw sweet potatoes, peeled and halved, or quartered if very large. Add a lump of fat, butter or dripping, rolled in a little flour, also a tablespoonful of water. Seal bag and cook in a hot oven thirty-five minutes to an hour, according to the quantity of food in the bag. Slack that after five minutes. Slow, steady cooking makes the meat tender, yet full of flavor.

Choose a tender cabbage for the pudding. Shred it fine, then drop in boiling salted water and cook uncovered at full boil, ten minutes. Drain out, run cold water through it, then mix it thoroughly through a pint of milk which has been beaten well with two eggs, and season with salt and pepper. If the cabbage is small, use one egg and half a pint of milk. Have the bag very thickly greased and sprinkle it inside with grated cheese. Put in the mixture by big spoonfuls, add a lump of butter and sprinkle in more cheese between the spoonfuls. Seal very tight, lay on a trivet, put in a hot oven for three minutes, then slack heat, and cook for at least an hour.

Scrape carrots as usual, cut them in pieces and put into a buttered bag with half a gill of stock, a dot of butter and salt and pepper to taste. Cook thirty-five to forty-five minutes at a moderate heat.

Apple dumplings are apple dumplings in or out of bags. Their goodness depends on three things—the paste, the maker and the cooking. The apple is hardly more than a vehicle to hold sweets and spices and accent the tang of them.

Make real puff paste for your dumplings, roll it a quarter-inch thick, fit it neatly around the apples, which should be liberally treated with sugar and butter, not to name lemon peel and cinnamon, put in a thickly-buttered bag with a small lump of butter and a spoonful of sugar, and cook for twenty to twenty-five minutes in a fairly hot oven.

For cider sauce, cream half a cup of butter, frothy light, beat into it a heaping cup of sugar, then set over hot water and add gradually a cup of fresh sweet cider, hot but not boiling. Beat hard together, grate nutmeg over, and serve very hot.

The cheese crackers are lightly buttered, sprinkled with parmesan, and heated inside a bag for about five minutes.

Peck of Trouble Over Woodpecker.

The story of a woodpecker, a water tank, a violation of the law and a gum-shoe game warden, and the complications caused at Cole Camp, Mo., on the Rock Island railroad, is told in a letter to the Post-Dispatch by E. C. Hill, a traveling salesman.

Hill says he arrived in Cole Camp a couple of days ago and found the town all excited. A woodpecker selected a railroad watertank as a fine place on which to sharpen his bill, and, after the habit of woodpeckers, kept pecking on a particular spot until he pecked a hole in the tank. This let all the water out.

The railroad employees who had to plug the hole and refill the tank threatened the woodpecker. When the new wooden plug was in place the woodpecker resumed his merry tattoo on the tank. Then somebody shot the woodpecker in violation of the game law.

News of the violation was flashed to Jefferson City, and a deputy warden arrived in Cole Camp on the next train. He said still to be there trying to find the slayer of the woodpecker.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

DEVELOPING DRAFTERS.

Sound Mares as Necessary as Pure Bred Stallions.

It requires skill and a liberal system of feeding to grow and develop a high grade draft horse for market, writes W. Milton Kelly in Country Gentleman. The actual difference in cost between growing the right kind and mongrels is so very small that it is folly for a man to start the business with a lot of old nondescript mares and depend on the good qualities of the stallion to correct their natural weaknesses and deformities in the progeny. The man who knows how to care for and feed his farm teams so that they will keep in good flesh and vigorous condition can afford to invest a few hundred dollars in good brood mares and grow horses for market. The farmer who is in a position to market one or two good draft teams each year has an additional income that is from a much easier and more certain source than many other branches of stock feeding.

After selecting a few well bred mares that are free from all hereditary disease mate them with a stallion of one of the leading draft breeds, and one that is not only a good individual, but a true type and representative of his breed. The stallion should not weigh to exceed 500 pounds more than the mare with which he is to be mated. In all lines of stock breeding we find that nature abhors a union of widely different types and that it will usually produce better results to mate the mares with stallions somewhere near their weight and resembling them in form and general characteristics.

While some farmers are beginning to appreciate the importance of using sound, pure bred stallions, the equal importance of using sound mares is not yet generally understood. When a mare by reason of unsoundness no longer is fit for anything else she often is set aside for breeding purposes, and so long as this absurd and ruinous policy persists the penalty will be paid in the prevalence of unsound horses on our farms.

The success achieved in the breeding of Clydesdale horses in Canada serves as a good example of what can be accomplished by persistence and expert selection. The Scottish element of the Dominion's population has been partial to the Clydesdale breed and conversant with its good qualities and utility; hence imported Clydesdale stallions.

The Shire breed of draft horses seems to be growing in popularity among American horse breeders. The strong, muscular type characteristic of the breed has been proved of vast utility in producing first class, durable draft horses. The stallion shown above is owned by Taylor & Jones of Illinois and was the first prize aged Shire stallion at the Illinois state fair last fall.

None of the best character have been largely employed in the breeding operations of that country since the year 1842. Practically speaking, no alien crosses have been made, and the average farmer has been capable of selecting suitable mares and of adequately developing their progeny. The result is that Canada has but one type of draft horses, and it is a good one, showing to a high degree of excellence all of the broad characteristics of the pure bred Clydesdales.

A Tabor Story.

Count Boyetta, Mme. Modjeska's husband, was arranging with Senator Tabor for Modjeska's first appearance in Denver, and the founder of dramatic art in Denver asked what parts she played.

"Well," said the count, "there is 'Mary Stuart'."

"Who wrote it?" asked Tabor.

"Shiller," said the count.

"Is he a first class dramatist?" asked Tabor.

"Surely, surely," said the count. "He is most illustrious."

"Humph! Never heard of him," commented Tabor. "What else does she do?"

"As You Like It, 'Antony and Cleopatra,' 'Macbeth'."

"Who wrote them?"

"Shakespeare."

"How's he? Good writer?"

"Excellent, excellent."

"Well," said Tabor ruminatively, "those fellows may be all right as authors, but they ain't well enough known to suit the people out here. What we want is something popular, something that everybody's heard of. I tell you what you do—you get her to give us something of Hoyt's!"

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS

The Physician's Responsibility.

By DR. HENRY L. K. SHAW.

Fifteen years ago it was unsafe to drink the Albany water. The doctors of the city educated and agitated public opinion so that a scientific filtration plant was constructed, and today typhoid fever is practically unknown. So with the great problem of tuberculosis which we are all striving so hard to solve. The public is fast being educated, and there is a most determined and commendable effort on the part of all classes and professions to stamp out the disease as effectively as smallpox was stamped out. The chief responsibility, however, rests upon the physician, and he is a traitor to himself and to the noblest of professions if he shirks his duty in the slightest. The consensus of opinion among the students of this subject is that prompt notification of each case to the proper authorities, as in the case of other communicable and infectious diseases, is essential in the control of tuberculosis.

NO REASON FOR IT

You Are Shown A Way Out.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the word of a resident of this locality who has found relief. The following is convincing proof.

F. L. Stewart, Princeton, Ky., says: "We still use Doan's Kidney Pills in our family and consider them an excellent remedy for kidney disease. They have never failed to give me great relief whenever we have taken them. The statement given by a member of my family some years ago was true. I am glad to again publicly recommend this preparation."

Water Not Right.

Mr. J. W. Lern, proprietor of the Sturgis Ice Factory is wrestling with an unusual proposition. Everything was ready for making ice at the new factory. Plenty of water, clear as crystal and it seemed that there was nothing in the way, but upon making the first can, it was found that the water had something in solution that rendered the ice unfit for use. Mr. Kern immediately sent a sample to the city chemist at Louisville for analysis. There is hardly any question, but that the problem of eliminating the trouble will be easy, still delay is costly.—Sturgis News-Democrat.

Getting Back at Him.

This one is told about an East End dancing class. There was a young woman who thought a good deal about ancestry and descent, and there was a young man who thought that such stuff was snobbish. The two sat out a dance together, and the girl mounted her hobby almost at once.

"What was your father," interrupted the young man.

"Father was a gentleman."

"Ha! But what did he do for a living?"

The young man thought that smart, but the girl came right back.

"What was your father?" she asked.

"My father raised hogs."

"I see he did. But what did he do for a living?"

Mississippi River Changing

Its Course.

Hickman, Ky., May 20.—The recent high water did considerable damage at the narrow neck or cut off at Slough Landing near Hickman. Fourteen houses were washed into the river at that point. It also washed the banks badly, and it is only a question of time when the river will make a channel there. When it does, New Madrid, Mo. will no longer be a river town, and at the same time thousands of acres of fine bottom land will be ruined. Where the water poured off on the lower side of the neck of ground in the recent flood it washed a hole said to be fifty feet deep. W. A. Ainshaw of this city, came across this neck when the water was up, being the first to cross it in his launch. It is now only half a mile across the narrowest place while to follow the main channel of the river it is forty-five mile around the bend. Many citizens of Hickman can remember when this strip was eight miles across, and now only half a mile wide. A few more high water stages and the river will cut a channel, at that point and shorten the Mississippi river fully forty-five miles. Republicans Lose

Louisiana Franchise.

Baton Rouge, La., May 22.—As a party the republican party no longer exists in Louisiana today. Its franchise was lost when the official returns of the April elections were read in the joint session of the General Assembly today and the result formally promulgated. Only 4,961 votes were cast for the Republican candidates, and as this is less than the 10 per cent, required by State law, the organization no longer exists.

The only way the names of the nominees can be placed on the ticket in the future is by petition, as has been the case with independent candidates. The forfeit of the franchise also prevents the party from availing itself of the provisions of the State primary law.

State Wins Debating Contest

the affirmative had not sufficiently proven.

The negative rebuttal was very short and dealt with arguments that had already been given. But the affirmative rebuttal, by Mr. Miller, showed the fallacy of the objections of the negative. Mr. Miller consumed all the time allowed for the rebuttal and when he closed he left nothing on which the negative could retain a hope of victory.

When the votes of the judges were read, four of them were openly and plainly for the affirmative and the other one made a long explanation, which could not be made out definitely, so the chairman counted it for the negative. The State University students, of whom there were a good number present, carried their victorious debaters out of the building and gave them a joy ride down through town.

The judges were, T. D. Black of Barbourville; T. A. Hedrick of Cynthiana; T. B. Threlkeld of Nicholasville; W. O. Davis, of Versailles, and T. J. Clark, of Chicago. William H. Townsend, of State University, president of the association presided.

This is the seventh inter-collegiate debate in which State University has participated and the fifth victory that has been won.
